TO THE MEMBERS OF THE RUTGERS UNIVERSITY CLASS OF 1973:

I want to take this opportunity to express, on behalf of the faculty and administration, our congratulations on your admission to the State University. While you will be most immediately a member of the student body at Livingston College, you will, in a broader sense, also be a member of the larger University family, and it is to this community that we most sincerely welcome you.

Although the responsibilities of the University administration encompass the University as a whole, we wish to express our awareness and concern for each of you as an individual. Your personal and educational needs are uppermost in our minds, and it is our goal to do everything we can to make your career at Rutgers as rewarding as possible.

Rutgers has much to offer you. At the same time, much will be asked of you. With proper application on your part, your years here should prove to be challenging and at the same time extremely rewarding ones. If, on any occasion, I can be of help to you or your parents, please consider this an open invitation to contact me.

Sincerely,

GEORGE A. KRAMER
Vice Provost and
Dean of Admissions
